ROCK ME TO SLEEP, MOTHER.

Backward, turn backward, O Time, in your flight,
Make me a child again just for tonight!
Mother, come back from the echoless shore,
Take me again to your heart as of yore;
Kiss from my forehead the furrows of care,
Smooth the few silver threads out of my hair;
Over my slumber your loving watch keep—
Rock me to sleep, mother; rock me to sleep!

Backward, flow backward, O tide of the years!
I am so weary of toil and of tears—
Toll without recompense, tears all in vain—
Take them, and give me my childhood again!
I have grown weary of dust and decay,
Weary of flinging my soul-wealth away;
Weary of sowing for others to reap—
Rock me to sleep, mother; rock me to sleep!

And of the hollow, the base, the untrue,
Mother, O mother, my heart calls to you!
Many a summer the grass has grown green,
Blossomed and faded our faces between.
Yet with strong yearning and passionate pain
Long I tonight for your presence again;
Come from the silence, so long and so deep—
Rock me to sleep, mother; rock me to sleep!

Come, let your brown hair just lighted with gold
Fall on your shoulders again as of old;
Let it drop over my forehead tonight,
Shading my faint eyes away from the light;
For with its sunny-edged shawds
Once more
Haply will throng the sweet visions
Of yore;
Lovingly, softly, its bright billows sweep—
Rock me to sleep, mother; rock me to sleep!

Mother, dear mother, the years have been long
Since I last listened your lullaby song.
Sing, then, and unto my soul it shall seem
Womanhood's years have been only a dream.
Clasped to your heart in a loving embrace,
With your sweet lashes just sweeping my face,
Never hereafter to wake or to weep;
Rock me to sleep, mother; rock me to sleep!

—Mrs. Elizabeth Akers Allen.

MISS FANNIE WAGGENHEIM'S LOVELY BRIDGE LAST NIGHT.

Miss Fannie Waggenheim, a beautiful young Jewish society girl who is known and loved among many friends here, was hostess last night at the delightful events of the present holiday week. The affair, which was a bridge party, was given in honor of Miss Sadie Steinhardt, of Greenville, Ala., who is visiting Miss Berina Lichten, the interesting game having been played between the hours of eight and ten. Miss Leah Cain was successful in carrying off first honors, the prize being a pair of silk hose. Miss Steinhardt received the guest prize, a handsome cut glass and silver toilet bottle.

Miss Waggenheim received her guests in a charming white net costume over silk, with real lace trimmings. She was assisted by Miss Alice Waggenheim, also in dainty white, and by her mother, Mrs. I. E. Waggenheim, whose gown was an artistic affair of black crepe de chine.

Miss Steinhardt wore an elaborate pink satin dress, heavily trimmed in hand embroidery effects. The home had been beautifully decorated for the occasion in great holly wreaths tied with large bows of red ribbon, other holiday decorations being used in the predominating hues of red and green.

After the game, refreshments were served on the five individual tables, which were attractive with their handsome battenberg centerpieces, their cut glass and silver, and their fragrant bouquets of spicy carnations. Hot chocolate, assorted cake, wine, bon-bons, stuffed dates and salted almonds were served. Those present were Misses Reine and Leah Cain, Bertha Lichten, Sadie Steinhardt, Josie Barker, Fannie Berlin, Bell Berlin, Theresa Jacoby, Lillian Jacoby, Sarah Cahn, Clara Frenkel, Elsie Friedman, Sarah Goldstucker, Celestine Hirschler, Fay Heinberg, Lola Menko, Reine Tannehseier, and Mesdames Hubert Mook and Ben Heinberg.

A TOAST.
Here's to one of the Entre Nous
Hoping no trumps will go thro'
No trumps doubled lead a high heart
No matter what loss, you've done your part.

Every Wednesday sees this little band
Full of life and hope and spirit—grand
But one alas her "spirits" spilled
And this did not her ardour chill.

She promptly mashed a peppermint
Says shades are doubled without stint
Diamonds were led, as she'd a plenty
She lost five tricks and that was twenty.

Said she "Let's do away with refreshment"
Pay strict attention from commencing
So now they play in rain or shine
Without a "cardinal, cake or wine."

Let's hope that with the passing years
No harm may come to them or their
May peace and plenty be their lot
With a chicken yard and a garden plot.

That the garden plot the chicks won't scratch
That every egg the hens lay will hatch
With garden green and eggs a plenty
We'll still play on until we're seventy.

WOODVILLE.

Woodville, Dec. 29.—One of the most interesting features of the day here was the closing of our high school on Dec. 17 for a vacation of two weeks, with a confectionary entertainment, balloon ascension, candy pulling, etc., and we all are heartily glad when the school again opens up that it will still retain its rapid progress which is under the management of Prof. H. B. Fletcher and his able and efficient assistance.

Last Sunday the pastor of the M. E. church delivered a very interesting and forceful sermon to an attentive and appreciative congregation, it being his farewell sermon before conference.

We are glad to note that Woodville has enjoyed two very successful Christmas trees, one being for children at the home of Prof. and Mrs. H. B. Fletcher and the other at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Decker, which was an exceedingly enjoyable affair.
